Poetry.

Three Kisses of Farewell.

[These exquisite verses are from one of "Esther Wynn's Love-Letters" in Scribner's for December.]

There, only three, my darling,
Separate, solemn, slow;
Not like the swift and joyous ones
We used to know
When we kissed because we loved each other
Simply to taste love's sweet,
And lavished our kisses as the summer
Lavishes heat,—
But as they kiss whose hearts are wrung,
But as they kiss whose hearts are spent,
When hope and fear are spent,
And nothing is left to give, except
A sacrament!

First of the three, my darling,
Is sacred unto pain;
We have hurt each other often;
We shall again,
When we pine because we miss each other,
And do not understand
How the written words are so much colder
Than eye and hand.
I kiss thee, dear, for all such pain
Which we may give or take;
Buried, forgiven, before it comes
For our love's sake!

The second kiss, my darling,
Is full of joy's sweet thrill;
We have blessed each other always;
We always will.
We shall reach until we feel each other,
In spite of time and space;
We shall listen till we hear each other
In every place:
The earth is full of messengers,
Which love sends to and fro;
I kiss thee, darling, for all joy
Which we shall know!

The last kiss, oh, my darling,
My love—I cannot see
Through my tears, as I remember
What it may be.
We may die and never see each other
Die with no time to give
And sign that our hearts are faithful
To die, as live.
Token of what they will not see
Who see our parting breath,
This one last kiss, my dar[l]
The seal of death!

Selected Story.

The Challenge.

"I'll do it," said a merry voice, from the midst of the group of laughing girls to whom a young man was eagerly talking—"I'll do it."

"Will you, Miss Nelly?" he asked. "But you must remember that I shall conceal myself somewhere, so as to witness the performance."

"O, dear! I should not like that," replied the first speaker.

"What is it?" inquired a young girl, just entering. "You seem to be all in a solemn conclave met—what is it all about?"

"O, Sue, Mr. Willard offers ten dollars to any girl who will go into his brother Arthur's office and kiss him."

"Ye, but I must be present to see the fun," added the young man.

"I'll do it," said the new comer, tossing back her golden curls—"I'll do it!—that is—what is your brother like? what is the matter with him?"

"Why he's awfully afraid of the girls, Miss Susy, and won't go near them; and I do believe he would faint at the idea of kissing one."

"I don't know," said the merry girl, a little dubiously; "I think these dreadfully shy fellows are somewhat unreliable, they develop in the most startling way sometimes. However, I'd do it—that is, unless I am interfering with prior claims," she added, looking around laughing at the other girls.

"No no," they answered; "we leave you mistress of the field, and wish you all the necessary courage to carry the thing through successfully."

"Well," said Sue, "when shall it be, Mr. Willard?"

"As I know that you will be dying with impatience, Miss Marvin, I appoint to-morrow for the tender ceremony. I will let you know when Arthur is alone in the office, and then I will manage to secrete myself so as to witness it all: and I shall provide myself with a good supply of camphor and sal volatile, for I feel very sure that it will be needed."

She looked very incredulous, but showed no disposition to withdraw from the agreement.

The next day Arthur Willard sat in his office, busily writing. He was a fine manly-looking fellow, not handsome, but with eyes soft, large and tender as a woman's, although they could flash sometimes, when their owner was excited or indignant, as his brother said, I was very difficult in the presence of ladies, and for that reason led a very quiet secluded life, as regarded society, but he devoted himself to his profession, of which he was quite a brilliant ornament. Yet, although he avoided ever meeting ladies, he had his own romantic dreams in regard to them, and many a bright eyed, frivolous girl would have been astonished, and perhaps a little conscience stricked, had she known with what reverence this young man looked up to, and silently regarded her; for these merry, laughing creatures seemed almost like divinities to his admiring eyes.

On the morning referred to, as he sat busily writing, all at once he heard a light step on the stairs. He raised his head, a little surprised, for his female clients generally came in a more ponderous shape than that soft step would indicate.

His astonishment was very much increased when, after quite a long pause, the door was opened in a hesitating manner, and a fair young girl stood before him. Very lovely she looked, too, as she remained transfixed to the spot, rosy as Aurora herself.

Arthur Willard looked so tall and manly as he advanced a step to meet her, his face flushed in pleased surprise, and his usual awe of gentle maidenhood, that she heartily wished the floor would open and let her through. But no such blissful rescue came; the floor remained firm beneath the feet of the lovely girl and the young lawyer, who stood with face scarlet and embarrassed silently, regarding each other. He was the first to break the awkward silence.

"Is there anything that I can do for you?" he asked.

"Well, yes," faltered she, "I've got myself into a very silly scrape, and I want you to help me out of it."

"Certainly," replied the young man, recovering his self-possession somewhat, as he concluded that his services as attorney were required; "I am entirely at your service."

"I suppose I may as well tell you all about it. A young man here offered me ten dollars if I would kiss a certain gentleman living in this town, and I accepted the challenge without thinking what I was doing, and now I feel very much ashamed and would like to get out of the business. Will you tell me how I can do it?" she asked, looking up in his face in the most innocent manner.

"I see no other way for you but to fulfill the contract," he replied, trying very hard to preserve his gravity, "it would certainly be an aggravated case of perjury if you withhold the kiss now."

"But don't you know who it is?"

"How should I?" he inquired.

"Well," said she, blushing furiously, "it's—it's you!"

Then I repeat the advice that I gave before," he said, his shyness seeming to disappear very rapidly, she thought, as the undertaking grew more and more formidable.

"But," she said, "I never felt so silly in my life. What will you think of me?"

"I shall consider myself the luckiest fellow in creation," he said.

"Well, I suppose I may as well do it first as last," murmured the poor Sue, advancing toward him.

"I think so, certainly," was the encouraging reply.

"They would all tease me to death if I didn't do it."

"Of course they would. You would never hear the last of it."

"But you must sit down," she said, almost ready to cry, "you are so tall that I can never reach your face."

"Certainly," he replied seating himself, with a beaming countenance, and the sweet red lips of the trembling girl lightly touched his forehead. But what's this? To her utter consternation, she felt two strong arms clasped closely around her, and two masculine lips returning her kiss with compound interest.

At that moment a roar of laughter was heard, and Sam Willard burst from his hiding place, fairly shrieking with delight.

"Sue, Sue," he exclaimed, "I think it is you who need the lesson and compliment."

But that young lady had slipped out of the office, and was walking down the street at an alarming rate.

"O, Arthur, you are the only man who would have done it," she said, and tell the boys that I have paid the ten dollars. Sam, for the young lady's sake! You are wonderfully considerate all of a sudden. It's a pity you hadn't been a little more so a minute ago!" and with a merry laugh the laughing young man left Arthur to himself.

The latter did not resume his writing for some time. There was an unusual light in his dark eye, and a pleased smile playing around his lips, as he sat idly gazing out of the window. After awhile he took up his pen again, but soon laying it aside, he seized his hat for a long walk, astonishing his brother, upon his return, with the announcement, that he intended going to Mrs. Allen's party that evening.

"Why, Arthur," exclaimed Sam, "that kiss deserves to be put on record, like the one given to the sleeping princess. If I were only a poet now, I'd immortalize it. Sue Marvin has accomplished a wonder—produced a revolution. That's true—I must pay her the ten dollars."

As for the young lady herself, she went home in a most indescribable state of mind, her cheeks fairly burning with shame and indignation.

"The impudent fellow!" she muttered to herself. "But what splendid eyes he has got! Very diffident to be sure—I'm certain he kissed me a dozen times. I never shall want to look in his face again, and yet I'm glad it wasn't any one but him. One thing I can comfort myself with, though—I never shall meet him anywhere but on the street, and then I will pretend not to see him. There is some consolation in that."

In the evening she attended Mrs. Allen's party, dressed in blue and silver; her lovely curls fastened back with glittering butterflies that looked light and airy as if wrought from sunbeams. She was very beautiful, with the rich bloom on her cheeks that had not left them since the morning's escapade.

"Ah, Sue!" exclaimed the girls, as she entered Mrs. Allen's parlor, "how pretty you look! Did you win the bet?"

"O, girls!" she replied, "don't say anything more about it. I never was so ashamed in all my life."

"Why, there he is," exclaimed one of the group. "As to the world, Sue Marvin, he has conquered you—I know. Here's a romance for you—a lundream village."

She looked very pretty and interesting as she met Arthur Willard, who gave the gentleman, and turned quickly from the girls, she stole off into another room, but there she was quickly joined by Sam Willard, who handed her the ten dollars.

"Now, Sue," said a young lady joining them, "you must sit with that."

"No, Mary, she answered, "I am going to buy Mrs. Bond a nice, warm blanket shawl, and tell her it is a present from Mr. Willard. I mean that some good shall result from this ridiculous performance and hope that a little charity may restore my peace of mind in a measure."

"Why, Miss Susy," said the gentleman, "you mustn't take this matter so seriously to heart, you have done a great thing, you have waked my brother up, and I for one, feel very grateful. He would never have come here to-night but for that kiss. You didn't expect that he would pay you back, so generously, did you, now?"

"Now, Mr. Willard," she replied, "if you say another word to me about this affair, I never will forgive you."

Seeing that she was really in earnest he commenced on another conversation about something else.

His brother tried hard to get a chance to speak to Sue during the evening, but seeing at last that she studiously avoided giving him any such opportunity, he concluded that he had incurred her dislike, and so turned his attention to another young girl, who was evidently very much pleased to receive him.

Our heroine went home feeling very low spirited, she could not tell why; although she had reigned all the evening as the belle par excellence, still that consciousness afforded her no happiness whatever.

"I don't see what do to[o] so attractive in Sarah Elliott," she said to herself. "I wish I had let him speak to me. He was dreadfully impudent, yet if he hadn't kissed me back, I should have though him a perfect sheep."

The next morning, at the breakfast table, her father suddenly turned toward her, saying:

"Sue, what is all this I hear about your kissing Mr. Willard; it's true?"

"What did you hear, papa?" asked the poor girl, in a faint voice.

"Oh, it is true then? You do not deny it. Perhaps I had better send you back to school again, but I should suppose that a girl nearly twenty years old, might conduct herself with a little more propriety. I wish to know all about it."

Striving hard to keep back her tears, Sue told her story, her father trying to look very stern, but finally he burst into a laugh, and saying: "Sue, never do anything of the kind again," he left the room.

Then her mother commenced and gave her a long and severe lecture, and poor Sue felt very unhappy, but all these things together only made her think the more about Arthur Willard—in fact, that gentleman occupied her mind pretty much all the time, and that day as she sat at the window she saw him pass by, talking in a most animated manner to Sarah Elliott.

Somehow the sun did not seem to shine as brightly after that, and in the evening when a friend came to escort her to a party she pleaded a very severe headache, and excused herself from going.

Arthur went purposely to see her, and was sadly disappointed when the evening passed away, and she did not appear.

"I believe she avoids me," he thought. "Well, it was a happy dream, but soon past. I will not trouble her any more. I will go back to my office, and not drive her from the scenes were she shines so brightly." And sad and discouraged, he went home that night, determined to keep his resolution, hard as it might be.

Thus several weeks passed and they did not meet, although each had watched and longed to see the other. She went to several parties hoping that he would be present, but she was always disappointed. One evening, Sam. Willard said to her:

"Miss Susy. I wish you would kiss my brother again; he has retired into his shell again, and I am afraid, never will come out any more, unless you repeat that tender little ceremony of which I was a delighted spectator."

"You had better get Miss Elliott to do it," answered Sue, quickly.

"Oh, no," he said, "I do not think it'll produce the same effect. But Sue, I hope Arthur did not offend you."

"I wish you would not say anything more about it," Sue replied, looking very much as if she were going to cry. Sam saw this, much to his dismay, and began to tell a funny story that soon chased the tears from her lovely eyes.

After several weeks, and even months had dragged by, Sue thought one day that she would go to a neighboring town to procure some thing of which she was in want.

Just as she was fairly ensconced in the car, who should enter it but Arthur Willard, his eyes meeting hers almost instantly.

From some unaccountable impulse, she turned her head quickly away, and he, looking offended and hurt, seated himself some distance from her.

She felt uncomfortable enough during her short ride, and when the car stopped she started off at a rapid pace for the store to which she intended going. But it happened to be very slippery, and she had not proceeded very far before her foot slipped, and she lay a helpless mass of femininity upon the ice.

Looking quickly around, she saw Arthur Willard advancing toward her to render his assistance; but just as he was about to raise her he also slipped, and fell, equally helpless, by her side.

This was too much for Sue's gravity, and she burst in a ringing, merry laugh, that was quickly re echoed by her companion.

They could not move for a moment, but finally Arthur regained his footing, and lifting Sue from the ice, he drew her arm through his.

"Miss Marwin," he said, "you must let me help you over this ice, or you will fall again."

"Suppose you should fall, too," she replied, looking up saucily into his face.

"I shall try my best to keep from it, and now, Miss Marwin," he continued, "as I may not have another opportunity, I want to apologize to you for my rudeness the day that you——"

"Kissed," he was going to say, but suddenly stopped, saying:

"The day that you came to my office. I know that I was very impertinent, but still—I really could not help it, and," he continued, giving her a look that made her drop her eyelids very quickly, "I am afraid, with the same charming provocation, that I should do it again."

Here they reached the store where Sue intended to stop, and much to the regret of both parties, they parted, not, however, before she had summoned sufficient courage to invite her escort to call and see her—which invitation he eagerly accepted, giving her hand a tender pressure which brought the roses quickly to her cheeks.

She was in wonderful spirits when she went home, so her father advised her to go to ——— more frequently.

"Did you see any one that you know?" he inquired.

She hesitated a moment, and then tried to answer carelessly.

"No—that is, no one with whom I am very much acquainted. Mr. Arthur Willard was on the cars."

"From the acknowledgment you made to me, a few weeks ago, I should consider him a pretty familiar acquaintance," said her fatlioe, looking at her somewhat suspiciously. "I hear that he and Sarah Elliott are going to make a match. Is it true?"

"I don't know," said the young girl, and she rose quickly from the table and left the room.

"I am afraid, Mary," said Mr. Marwin, to his wife, "that Sue is fond of Mr. Willard. The match would please me very much, for he is a most excellent young man, but if this story about him and Sarah Elliott is true, our darling is doomed to disappointment. It may all be village gossip, but I think perhaps it would be as well for Sue to go away for awhile. Change of air is as good for disordered hearts as for disordered livers or stomachs."

The next day a young friend of Sue's called to see her, and in the midst of their merry gossip, she said:

"Do you really believe it's true that Mr. Willard and Sarah Elliott are going to be married?"

"I don't know, I'm sure," she answered feeling very cold.

"I teased her the other day about him," continued her unconscious friend, "and she blushed and laughed, and didn't deny it, but it seems a little queer that he should have retired into obscurity again."

When the young lady left, Sue went up to her room and indulged in a good cry, after which she made up her mind that she would go away, as her father had proposed.

"I cannot stay here," she murmured, "and see him devoting himself to that silly girl; it is more than I can bear. I believe he is a flirt, notwithstanping his terrible shyness. How he did look at me. I hope he did not see how much I cared for him. I will get ready and go to-morrow."

So she began her preparations immediatly, and the next day left the village, with a young house in the shape of a Saratoga, sufficiently filled for the necessities of a long visit, and that very evening Arthur called, for the first time, to see her, and much to his surprise and dismay, heard that she had gone away for a long visit.

His brother found him that evening with his face buried in his hands, so lost in thought that he did not hear his approach.

"Arthur," inquired Sam, "is this all true about you and Miss Elliott?"

"I don't know what you mean," was the reply.

"Why, it is reported all over town that you are engaged to that young lady."

"Nonsense, Sam. I have spoken to her three times, I believe."

"Three times! That is enough, then, to make an engagement. You know, my dear boy, in a town like this, you cannot speak to the same young lady three times with impunity. Twice, perhaps, is admissible, but three times—that is enough to compromise you seriously. But, Arthur, what in the world is the matter with you? You seem to be dreadfully down in the mouth."

"Nothing, Sam, nothing."

"But I know there is something, and you have got to tell me at once. I believe that kiss was too much for you. Are you in love with the charming Sue?"

"Yes, Sam," replied Arthur in desperation.

"Well, what is the use of being unhappy about it? Why don't you tell her that you love her?"

"I went there last evening expressly for that purpose, but they told me she had gone to ——— for a long visit."

"Write to her, then, or go and see her."

"Do you suppose it'she cared for me, that she would have gone off in this way?"

"I think, probably, that it was for that very reason she went away. She has, of course, heard the story of your engagement to Miss Elliott."

"Hang Miss Elliott," exclaimed the young man, impatiently.

"Well, my advice is that you follow Miss Marwin, immediately, and I firmly believe that you will find I was right."

Sue Marwin was standing before a long mirror, just completing her toilette for the evening, when a servant came and said that a gentleman in the parlor wished to see her.

"Didn't he give you a card?"

"No, miss; he said he wouldn't detain you but a moment."

"Who can it be?" she asked herself, as she descended the stairs. Her surprise and embarrassment increased when she opened the door and saw Arthur Willard standing, eager and impatient for her appearance.

"I have followed you, Miss Marwin," he said. "I called to see you last evening, and they told me you were here."

"How is Miss Elliott," inquired Sue, with a little toss of her head.

"O, Sue," replied the young man, "do you believe that silly story?"

"I saw you walking together," she stammered.

"A mere accident."

"But you seemed to like her very much at Mrs. Allen's party."

"Because the one I went there purposely to see would not look at or speak to me. You were very cruel, Miss Marwin. I thought you disliked me."

"I do not think I gave you much reason to think that in the morning," said she, blushing deeply, and yet looking most charmingly mischievous.

"Sue, if you look at me in that way I shall be tempted to do as I did then," said Arthur, impetuously.

"Be careful, sir," replied the young girl, laughing like a happy child.

But his arms were round her, and there seemed a fair prospect of the office scene being renewed.

Mr. and Mrs. Marwin were both surprised and ple

A WORD TO OUR READERS.

The circulation of the NORTH CAROLINIAN ought to be doubled. With a very little effort on the part of its friends—and we believe that the great mass of its readers are such—this could very soon be accomplished. There is no one so well qualified to speak of the value of this paper as those who peruse its pages every week. In it sphere, for the information it furnishes to the masses, it has no equal; while its price is within the reach of all.

READER! you who best know its value, speak a good word in its behalf, and get a friend or neighbor to send in his name, with the money. And DO IT NOW. We do not ask this as any special favor to us, but that our field of usefulness may be enlarged and the people benefited. The object of the NORTH CAROLINIAN is to do good. Its influence has already been felt in promoting the great material interests of this District and State, but it is capable of doing a great deal more. The wider the circulation; the larger its number of readers, the greater its power of usefulness.

Now we believe there is scarce a reader of the NORTH CAROLINIAN who is not interested in disseminating so valuable a paper among his circle of friends and throughout his neighborhood, and especially is every friend of Industrial Progress in this section of the State interested in this matter, and now is the time they can, by a little effort, enable us to scatter it far and wide, thus distributing the kind of knowledge and enlightening the minds of the very class so much needing it, and by this agency opening a way for the ultimate success and general prosperity of all our people.

THE DISMAL SWAMP STEAM TRANSPORTATION COMPANY.

A communication appeared in our last week's issue calling attention to the irregularity, uncertainty and lack of comfort attending the transportation of passengers over the line of the Dismal Swamp Steam Transportation Company. This complaint is becoming so general that we feel called upon to call public attention to it, and to ask for a reform. Somebody is to blame, and we do not believe it is at this end of the line. Every interest is suffering—business, immigration, improvement—all suffer because of the inefficient transportation to and from this place. The Company is losing both in travel and freight and our City and surrounding country are suffering in business and from the check thus given to their development and progress.

For the officers of the Company personally, we have great respect. They are gentlemen entitled to confidence and esteem. But the Chief Manager resides at Norfolk. He has a great deal of other business demanding his time and attention. And then Norfolk feels but little interest in this line. Elizabeth City feels a deep interest in it. To the former it don't seem to be important: to us it is all important just now. Properly managed, the business on the line could be trebly increased, the stock pay a large dividend and the trade of this section be vastly enlarged. Hence policy and interest alike demand that the management of the Company be transferred from Norfolk to Elizabeth City. It would then be attended to. Indeed we think the President of the Company ought to be a Elizabeth City man. The People think so too. And all point to Capt. W. A HARNEY as the man for the position.

Of course we endorse the nomination. Capt. HARNEY has spent his whole life in the business. He understands it thoroughly. He is acquainted with all our people and he is familiar with the demands and needs of the section from which the great bulk of the business of the Company is derived. He believes in progress—is imbued with the spirit that impels wide a wake men to keep abreast with the advancing age. He would place two good Boats on the line and keep them there. He would make them run regularly and on time. He would soon convince the traveling and trading public that he meant BUSINESS, and he would make the thing a success.

The spelling-book is a better weapon of defence in the hands of the children of the country, than any mere political horn-book with which to arm the future defenders of the nation.—Raleigh Carolinian.

Never were truer lines written. Our Raleigh namesake appreciates the true situation and he is using his pungent pen in the right direction. Democrat though he is, he believes in progress. He is accomplishing much good.

THE PRESIDENT EXECUTING THE LAWS.

The evidence elicited by the special Congressional Committee has amply satisfied the country that "The Order of the Invisible Empire," otherwise known as the Ku Klux Klans, is no myth of Republican partisanship, but rather a formidable reality, alike dangerous to the peace of society and the liberty of the people. Of this we say the country is now thoroughly convinced. But Congress itself had satisfactory evidence long before, and it was this evidence that induced it to pass the bill entitled "An Act to Enforce the Provisions of the Fourteenth Amendment." The bill was intended to give the President full power to meet the emergency.

On the 3rd of last May the President issued his proclamation calling the attention of the the people to the nature and requirements of the law, warning all persons to be obedient thereto, expressing his reluctance to "exercise any of the extraordinary powers thereby conferred upon" him, yet distinctly declaring his purpose to use "the power thus vested in the Executive whenever and wherever it shall become necessary to do so for the purpose of securing to all citizens of the United States the peaceful enjoyment of the rights guaranteed them by the Constitution and laws." He went further—exhorted the people in the infected districts to suppress this lawless and dangerous organization "by their own voluntary efforts, through the agency of the local laws," and thus relieve the National Government from the necessity of interfering.

Thus it will be seen that neither Congress nor the President acted hastily. Both gave ample warning. It ought to have been sufficient. But all was disregarded. The outrages and murders were continued and repeated. The local authorities have been either unwilling or unable to suppress them. The time had come for the President to take active measures under the Enforcement Act—now a part of the supreme law of the land. He is a man of nerve and force, who means what he says and has the courage to discharge his duty. He gave warning that he would, if necessary, put the law in force. He is doing it. The law authorizes him, in certain emergencies, to suspend the privileges of the writ of habeas corpus. The emergency having arisen in certain localities, he has proceeded to suspend the writ. He proposes to obey his oath of office in executing this and all other laws which prescribe duties for him to perform. The President means that the whole people of the late insurrectionary States shall accept the situation as an accomplished fact—peaceably if they will, forcibly if they must: and all good citizens should say Amen.

NO HOPE LEFT.

Twenty-one States have voted this year. These are New Hampshire, Connecticut, Kentucky, North Carolina, Pennsylvania Ohio, California, Iowa, West Virginia New York, Massachusetts, Minesota, Wisconsin, Illinois, Michigan, Kansas, Mississippi, New Jersey, Texas, Virginia and Maine. All but six went Republican. One of these six—New Jersey—elected a Republican Legislature and the Democratic candidate for Governor was elected more by his war record and his moderate professions than by any attempt to identify himself with his party. The drift of his speeches was to prove his fidelity to his country during the rebellion, and his indisposition to undo any of the laws passed to put down and keep down the disloyal element of the country.

Thus it is that the only Northern State in which the Democrats can claim the semblance of a triumph is the one in which the so called Democratic candidate put himself upon a Republican platform. How steadily time vindicates the justice of our country's cause! There is no longer a Democratic creed, and very little of a Democratic party. The former is either given up or denied, and the latter is ready to sell out to any Republican rash or foolish enough to be tempted by its promises.

It is said that the Post Master General, in his forth coming report, will recommend the passage of a law to punish persons for making "straw bids" for carrying the mails. Much time, labor and expense is wasted by irresponsible persons putting in bids, who are wholly unable to comply with the law and their contracts. This sometimes—as has happened in this State—makes it necessary to go over the entire work of asking for proposals.

Read the article on "Ku Klux Confessions," from the Hickory Tavern Eagle, printed on our first page. Had the other Democratic papers of the State taken the same position the good name and fair fame of North Carolina would not have suffered for the stigma, odium and shame caused by the infernal operations of this secret oath bound political organization. A fearful responsibility rests upon such papers as the Sentinel for not taking the brave and manly position assumed by the Eagle.

The people of North Carolina want intelligent discussion upon the subjects that involve the public interest of the State and the material interests of themselves.—Raleigh Carolinian.

Just so, and we are glad to see our Raleigh namesake thus trying to discuss them. No party gains anything, nor is any cause advanced by misrepresentation vulgarity or abuse.

Rev. J. R. Dimm, secretary of the Lutheran board of publication, is engaged in raising $100,000 to endow the publishing house. The plan he has adopted is to solicit the sum of one dollar from each of 100,000 communiug members in the general synod.—Exchange.

Rev. Mr. DIMM is a former townsman and friend of ours. For talent and ability he has no superior and few equals in his branch of the Church militant, and in his present official position he is the right man in the right place.

The Grand Duke ALEXIS, son of the Czar of Russsia landed at New York on the 19th. He met with a grand reception. He is on a visit to this country.

THE BLIND DEMOCRACY.

There is a peculiar disease sometimes affecting the horse known as the "blind staggers." Since the November elections we see unmistakeable evidence that the malady has attacked the managers of the Democratic party. The symptoms are a groping about in utter darkness, grasping after shadows, stumbling over rocks and butting against stonewalls. It is sometimes a fatal disease, and the fearful impression it is making on its Democratic victims indicates that it will be the last of them.

Badinage aside, the elections have caused all unity of purpose and concert of action to depart from the once proud and invincible Democratic party. The old Bourbon wing cry out: "We told you so: your leading us out of the old paths into your "New Departure" has only brought disaster and defeat." The answer is sent back. "It is yourselves that have brought the ruin: you stubbornly refused to acknowledge existing facts: you persisted in fighting against the inevitable and gave your tacit endorsement of the Ku Klux Klan."

As for the future, they do not agree any better. They are hopelessly divided. One faction demand a Democratic candidate with Republican principles: another insists on a Republican candidate with Democratic principles, while a larger party cry out for a candidate with no principle at all! Thus are they blindly staggering down, down to further disaster, greater defeat and political death!

RICHARD VANDERMARCK. A Novel By Mrs. SIDNEY S. HARRIS, Author o' "Rutledge" "The Sutherlands" etcf 1 vol. 12 mo. Cloth $1,50. New. York, Charles Scribner & Co. 1871.

The author of "Rutledge" breaks a silence of seven years with a story quite as bright and vivacious in style as dramatic in its situations, and as thoroughly true to life as anything she has previously written. A clever girl, with the "dangerous gift" and with no end of faults and weakness—pretty, selfish, unstable, womanly—tells her own story, and in a way entirely feminine, and so true to life that she seems to be talking, instead of writing, about herself—those who loved her and whom she loved, in spite of herself, and the various perplexing entanglements in which she consequently became involved. The characters are few and clearly defined, the plot not at all involved, the situations and incidents always graphic, and often told with real dramatic power and a genuine pathos, which combine to make the story one that will be universally read, with thorough satisfaction and pleasure.

MORTON HOUSE. A novel. By the author of Valeire Aglmer." With Illustrations. New York: D. Appleton & Co. 1871 paper. $1,00.

The author of this work is a North Carolina lady, and this is her second novel. The scene of the story is located in Alabama, and the initial period is fixed toward the close of a soft November day, some thirty years ago. It is a charming picture of life in the South; with a heroine all radiant with the beautiful and glorious attributes of the true maiden. After a long series of wrestless with poverty and its incidental troubles, she emerges at last into the happiness which belongs to the noble woman married to the man who is worthy of her.

Correspondence.

A Tribute to Worth and Talent.

To the Editor of the North Carolinian:

Amid the changes that are constantly occurring in the political world, and the many communications upon place, power and character it is not often thought proper to dis cuss the merits of the truly great and good. Such being the case, allow "Justice" to publish to the world in your worthy periodical, a short comment upon the prominent men of Eastern Carolina worthy of notice and now occupying high places of honor and trust! In order to a proper enforcement of the law, and a just administration of the same, we must have competent and proper officers. One of the best evidences that we are blest with such officers is the present peaceable and quiet state of affairs that characterizes our community at large. Whenever an officer properly performs the duties of his office, the hue and cry of rotation ought not to be regared; but the people should honor, protect and promote all such officers. Take for instance our present Representative in Congress,

CLINTON L. COBB.

Who dare say that he has not zealously and patriotically labored to perform the high duties of his office. Well may the colored people ever remember him as their truest and best friend in adversity as well as in prosperity, and it is a duty the district (composed of both white and colored) owe him, that he should again be returned to Congress at the next August election.

As a member of the Lower House he has shown himself true to the interests of the people and his constituents, and well deserves the honor and respect of his fellow countrymen.

Again permit us to point with pride and delight to the HON. CHARLES C. POOL,

Judge of the first Judicial District. He is the most impartial Judge we have had for years, and proves beyond the shadow of doubt, that Judges elected by the people, can administer the law without being governed by party or personal prejudice. Such has been the course of Judge Pool, that Conservatives and Republicans unanimously pronounce him to be a perfect gentleman, an honorable, worthy and competent Judge and have determined to reelect him in August 1872.

And what shall we say of our Senator,

HON. JOHN POOL,

The calm, quiet orator of America. The giant of this country in intellect. The man who has stood firm and true to his State, to his constituents, and to the Union amid the fiercest storms of misrepresentation, calumny and abuse that was ever heaped upon the head of any man. The country has acquitted him, and he stands to-day in the proud, calm consciousness of having proved faithful to the task of redeeming his State and people from oppression, misrule and the final overthrow of civil liberty. Coming generations will point back to the period in Carolina's history, when John Pool "the sweet voiced Nestor" of the present century, rose up amid the deluge and storm of political strife, and walked forth in the strength of his youthful manhood, saying to his fellow citizens, "Bear it for a while I will soon check the deluge and quell the storm." Hail! All Hail! to the proud Chieftain! and may Carolina's sons raise the shout to-day "Grant for President and John Pool for Vice President." Then will our State start on her career of wonted prosperity, and our nation will rejoice that Constitutional rights and civil liberty are being preserved in the sunny, yet dreary and desolate South. Remember my fellow citizens the three above named officials. Pour upon them in all future time the richest honors of our land, teaching the world, that in this our Federal Republic, intellect receives its proper reward, and moral honesty, our highest enconiums.

JUSTICE.

Hon. John Pool.

HIS ENTHUSIASTIC RECEPTION AT HIS HOME IN ELIZABETH CITY, N. C.

The Hon. John Pool, who has acquitted himself with so much distinction as the Senator from North Carolina, visited his home in Elizabeth City on Tuesday last, and was enthusiastically received by his numerous friends.

He was met at the steamboat landing by a large body of people, and addressed in the most complimentary terms by C. W. Grandy, Esq., on behalf of the assemblage. Mr. Pool replied in appropriate terms. He was then taken to a carriage and escorted to his home, where he was again welcomed in an impressive speech by Dr. Palemon John. Mr. Pool again replied, expressing his gratification at the reception thus given him by his old friends and neighbors, declaring that his efforts had been directed by a wish to restore peace to the South by suppressing a dangerous and bloody political organization; that he was content to bear odium when laboring in the cause of law and order, and that he had an abiding faith that the people of the State would ultimately do justice to those public men who had been instrumental in warning them against and saving them from the control of the organization referred to. He concluded by a warm indorsement of the administration of Gen. Grant, assuring the audience that he was the right man in the right place, and that the "true and tried men of the South may confidently rely upon him in every emergency.

Altogether the occasion was an interesting one, and the compliment thus tendered to the Senator by the people was eminently deserved.—Washington Chronicle.

Senator Pool, after nine months absence from Elizabeth City, his home, returned on Tuesday, Nov. 7th. He was met at the steamboat wharf by a large number of his neighbors and fellow citizens, who were desirous of expressing their respect for him, personally, and their approval of his public course. C. W. Grandy, Esq., made an address, to which Senator Pool replied. He was then taken in a carriage and escorted to his residence, amid great enthusiasm, when Dr. Palemon John, the editor of the Elizabeth City North Carolinian made a just and well-timed address of welcome, to which Mr. Pool replied in a sharp, graceful and incisive speech. No man in North Carolina better deserves ovations, or the love and confidence of his fellow citizens than Senator Pool.—Wilmington Post.

Hon. John Pool, the distinguished Senator from this State, arrived at his home at Elizabeth City last week, after a protracted absence, and was received by a large number of friends and neighbors. Upon the occasion C. W. Grandy Esq., and Dr. Palemon John, editor of the Carolinian made excellent speeches. Senator Pool responded to the welcome given him, which was an ovation richly deserved by the distinguished gentleman. While refering to this gentleman, we would advert to the fact, that his name has been prominently mentioned in connection with the Vice Presidency, and we know of no man whom it would give us more pleasure to see elevated to that position, and we trust that his claims may have full consideration at the proper time.—New-Bern Times.

The Finances.

Mr. Boutwell was able to report a reduction of our National Debt by more than Thirteen Millions in September, and he reports a further reduction of nearly Nine Millions in October. The full amount of reduction since Gen. Grant's inauguratisn is $263,755,812, or more than One Hundred Millions per annum. Should we continue to pay as we have thus far paid since the incoming of this Administration, the Debt would be utterly extinguished within the next twenty years. As it is, the annual interest or burden of the Debt is diminished by at least Fifteen Millions since Gen. Goant became President. These are cheerful figures.—Tribune.

His Excellency, Gov. Caldwell, has appointed J. Paul Diver, of Philadelphia a Commissioner of Deeds for North Carolina.

General Summary.

A fire occurred in Charlotte on the 17th destroying $35,000 worth of property.

Six additional Cadets have been dismissed from the Naval Academy for "hazing"

German Parliament has refused to place the image of the Emperor on the new coins.

Lord Tenterden has been appointed agent of the British Governmen at the Geneva Conference.

Daniel Gleason killed his wife with a dirk on the 20th, at North Adams, Mass. Jealousy was the cause.

A gentleman of something over forty years of age by the name of Page handed a young lady's glove to her, saying:

"If from the glove you take the letter G, The glove is love, and that I give to thee."

Her answer was:

"If from the Page you take the letter P. Then Page is age, and that won't do for me."

The Superior Court for Halifax county on Wednesday week, tried and acquitted Joseph Branch, Esq., charged with unlawfully shooting and wounding Mr. Vink Hardey, at the residence of the former, some time last spring.

Tweed, the most gigantic thief in the United States, has been elected Senator to represent the Democratic thieves, murderers, dance houses and brothels of New York. Of his district the New York World says "it is the worst political scab in the United States."

The Japanese are rapidly adopting American customs and manners, both in public and private life. Recently they imitated our greenback currency; and now the Japanese Government has closed a contract with Gen. Geo. B. Williams, Second Deputy Commissioner of Internal Revenue, to go out and establish our system of internal revenue.

A clergyman in Tipton, Indiana, has had a somewhat checkered career in the last five months. During that time he has buried his first wife, become engaged to three women, married one of them, got a divorce from her, has been sued for breach of promise by another, and has been suspended from the ministry. He has just married the woman who was suing him, and joined a different church, and he now thinks of retiring from public life.

In his lecture in Boston Theodore Tilton said a nation without divorce was a natson without virtue. France, he remarked, had no ground for divorce, and she was the most licentious country in the universe. Prussia had twelve grounds for divorce, and she was the most vntuous nation in Europe. South Carolina had no divorce, and she rots. Massachusetts had seven grounds for divorce, and she was the queen of the realm.

One day last week as laborers were cutting a new road through a hill, in a hollow known as Hang Hollow, they excavated a sack containing $12,000, gold and silver money, hidden there eighteen years ago by one Muir, who murdered a comrade, a Californian. Muir was hanged by a mob of Californians, and said he had hidden the money under a stump in this hollow, but refused to tell where Many persons have hunted for this treasure in vain. The laborers shared the booty equally.—Council Bluff News

There was a severe fire in the town of Washington, N. C., on the night of the 15th. About 9 o'clock in the night the town was aroused by the cry of fire, and the stables of Mr. Wm. Haight, the Stage contractor, were found burning down. Mr. Haight had three valuable horses burnt up. At midnight, the town was again aroused by the cry of fire! and this time a colored church, about half a mile from the stables, was burnt down. No one knows or can devise the cause of the fire.

The Chronicle of the 10th inst., reports Attorney General Akerman. as having said, in discussing political affairs last evening (the 9th,) remarked that persons who had not looked deeply into the matter could not realize the extent of the Ku Klux organizations in some sections of the Southern States. He says that, having been associated with the people of the South, and having recently traveled about that country, and observed for himself, he is satisfied that it is impossible to govern those people with local courts, juries, &c., until these Ku Klux organizations are entirely broken up.

The Ku Klux prisoners in the jail at Columbia are of the same stripe as those recently confined in our jail. Among them are intelligent and educated men—they are mum; there are others—the majority—who are untutored, and consequently ignorant. They talk freely, and have commenced puking, and "penting" of their sins, and expressing themselves resigned to any punishment the laws of their country may inflict. They say, they were induced to jine, by being told that if the Radicals kept in power, they would be compelled to marry colored women, and their daughters and sisters would have to marry colored men.—Era.

The Congressional Committee appointed to investigate the Ku klux outrages have returned to Washington with the results of their examinations in Georgia and Florida. It is the same old story of murders, whippings, beatings, &c., of Union men without distinction of color. The evidence of the outrages is overwhelming, and justifies far more stringent measures than have yet been adopted by the General Government to suppress these roving bands of cutthroats, and protect the lives of peaceable citizens. In Florida, it seems, the Ku klux are organized under the name of "Democratic clubs," which is not an inappropriate title, considering that their avowed purpose is to root out "Republicanism" in the South by killing or driving from the country all persons known to be of that faith. Benjamin Hill, a well-known citizen of Georgia, testified that he believed it to be the intention of Toombs, Stephens and ex-rebels of extreme views, to incite the people to another revolution. They will hardly attempt that game again while Gen. Grant occupies the Presidential chair, but it would be much more honorable for them to do it than to encourage the secret murders and assassinations of the Ku klux.

THIS WEEK'S ADVERTISEMENTS.

We call attention to the following new advertisement in this issue.
Bankrupt Notices.
Valuable land near Edenton.
Dr. Crooks Medicines.
Dr. Krebs Drug Emporium.
Frank Vaughan & Co., Insurance Agents.

Local and Personal.

☞ A train of Gypsies passed through town on Monday.

☞ DAVIS new advertisement of his Saloon will appear next week.

☞ Dr. SPEED of the Senate, and Mr. SYKES of the House, have left for Raleigh.

☞ Our market has been well supplied with Blue Fish the past week.

☞ Hon. Judge POOL will hold Court in Hertford, Perquimans county, next week.

☞ Our Devil says his sweet heart is so industrious that when she has nothing else to do she sits and knits her brows!

☞ The balance of the old Market House is being removed at last. This opening up of Water Street is a decided improvement.

☞ Our subscribers at Rose Dlae may pay their subscriptions to J. E. RADFORD. He is authorized to receive and receipt for the same.

☞ In reply to B. J. T. we would say that the Eric Canal has seventy one locks. It is three hundred and fifty and one half miles long, from Albany to Buffalo.

☞ The Concert given by the "Elizabeth City Benevolent Minstrel Troupe" was a success. The net profits, after paying expenses, amounted to $51,00. This will come as a God send to the poor women and children of our City, as it was to raise funds to purchase fuel for these that the Concert was gotten up.

☞ A cotemporary says that "Flannel Receptions" are becoming popular in his locality. He says it is another name for those parties where the young ladies sew an hour for the poor, and then, dance three for joy.

☞ The authorities have a force of men at work the past week widening Fearing Street. When completed it will not only add to to the value of the properties thereon, but improve the appearance of our town. We are decidedly in favor of all such changes. Our motto is Improvement and Progress.

☞ The "Tribute to Worth and Talent" in this issue of the NORTH CAROLINIAN is from the pen of a distinguished gentleman in a neighboring county—one who has not acted with the Republican Party, but who appreciates ability and is willing to award the praise of "well done" to faithful public servants.

☞ The following Licences were issued by the Register of Deeds from Oct., 1st to this date:

WHITE.

John Godwin to Jane Whitson; Walton B. Madrin to Laura W. Taylor; Joseph H. Dozier to Elmira Leiby; William Kite to Matilda Burgess; David Williams to Harriet Williams; Walter R. Russell to Emma W. Saunders; Theo. C. Fletcher to Sarah Cartwright.

COLORED.

Willis Morris to Mary Pailin; Bromfield Pugh to Esther Parker; Bey Perkins to Josephine Price; Samuel Price to Consan Bowe; Thos. Perry to Nicey Harris; Geo Perkins to Rosette Hasket; Robt. Williams to Manurving Johnson; Stephen Grandy to M. A. Williams; Rowan Gregory to Martha Snowden.

☞ It is gratifying to know that our efforts to publish a fair, candid, liberal and progressive journal is appreciated by honest and intelligent men of all parties. A distinguished gentleman in Halifax county on remitting his subscription, writes us as follows. Though differing with us in politics it will be seen that he approves of the general course of our paper nevertheless.

Allow me to express my pleasure in noting the course of your paper in regard to Immigration, Progress and Development of the material resources of our State. Your paper can claim (which few others in the South can) that it is fully abreast with the spirit of the age. Allow me also to express my admiration of your moderate tone in discussing Political questions—a tone which might well be followed by other papers of both Parties.

☞ On riding out in the country the other day we passed the farm of Capt. SAMUEL WATERS, and we were struck with the great improvements he has made. The Captain is an industrious, energetic, working man. By his clearing up, change of fences and general repairs he has not only made his little farm one of the neatest and prettiest in this locality, but has increased its value one hundred per cent. It is now worth in cash, twice what he paid for it. We see that in his operations he is putting in practice what we are all the time preaching—using brain with muscle, doing everything intelligently, plowing, planting and cultivating as the successful Northern farmers do, and the results are to be seen in the improved condition of his farm and in the excellent crops he has just gathered. Deep plowing; the use of muck, lime and manure; the sowing of clover, and the putting in of his crops in good order and in good season are demonstrating, even to the satisfaction of the old fogies, that these are just what this country needs. Our farmers are indebted to the Captain for having successfully solved some problems in the Agriculture of this section which most of them hadn't the courage to test.

☞ Among the Northern arrivals since our last we notice SEWALL PIKE from Havana, N. Y., P. H CHRETMAN, of Bloomsburg, Pa. and SIMON KELLER, from York, Pa. The latter has brought his family with him and located in this City.

☞ Mr. C. B. BROTHERS had the misfortune of losing a valuable horse on Monday evening. He had hired it to a party to drive out in the country a few miles. It suddenly took sick and died before reaching home.

☞ Vaccination is a duty which every man and woman owe to themselves and their families. As the small pox is now prevailing in many of the larger cities there is danger in delay. It may get reach us. Let the usual precaution be used.

☞ We call special attention to the large tract of land advertised in this issue by WM. E. BOND, of Edenton. This is an opportunity that should be embraced by some of our Northern friends wishing to come South. A half a dozen families could come and locate as neighbors.

☞ A correspondent from Edenton writes us: "Court is still in session. His Honor C. C. POOL gives perfect satisfaction, and our people think a great deal of his fairness and promptness as a Judge. He is "the right man in the right place."

☞ The wife of THOMAS TOWE a respectable colored man residing at Pool Town, five miles South of this City, brought an increase of three members to his family one night last week by giving birth to triplets—two girls and one boy, all living. About two years ago she gave birth to twins. If the second blessing fulfilled in this case we don't understand the meaning of the terms.

☞ We have just learned of another sad and fatal accident from the careless use of Kerosene. On the 16th inst., a Mrs. WALKER the wife of NATHAN WALKER, residing at Coin jock Canal bridge, in Currituck county, took a can of Kerosene to the Poultry house and poured some of the oil on the poles, logs, &c., lighting the same with a match to destroy the vermin, when the flames suddenly caught her clothing, and before assistance or relief could reach her she was so burned that she very soon died. Another warning.

☞ Just before going to press we received a rejoinder from the President of the Dismal Swamp Steam Transportation Company to the communication which appeared in our last week's issue. We regret that it reached us so late, especially as we have an editorial on the same subject already in type. It shall certainly appear next week. We believe in "fair play," and every man or corporation criticised in our columns shall always be accorded the right of being heard. We have no personal feelings in this matter: indeed we have been treated with special consideration and courtesy by the Managers of this Company; but the people here are deeply interested and the growth and development of this City and the surrounding country are so vitally affected that we would be recreant in our duty as a public journalist did we not agitate in favor of reform and improvement wherever needed.

LOCAL PORT-FOLIO.

A pointed joke—to set on a pin. The lateral sensation under the circumstances is said to be shocking. Better imagined than described—the sensation from a lady's boot heel (present style) when she steps on your foot accidentally. Cut up—sausages. Hard shells—oysters. As handsome as ever—the Elizabeth City girls. Needed—a few more street lamps. Very gal lant—our boys. Buoyant—the "gals." Tongues that never taste—buckles. Love is like a canal boat—because it is an internal transport. A new sign—at Keaton's. Selling goods rapidly—those Merchants who advertise. Getting longer—the nights. Beginning to squeal—the porkers. Standing matter—the address of the Democratic State Committee. Not crowded this week—our local Port Folio.

Business Locals.

Announcement.

For the past six months the Jobbing interest of our Office has suffered in consequence of neglect. Because of disappointment and the lack of promptness in attending to their orders our patrons have been disatisfied. The fault was not ours—the cause, for the time, was beyond our control. We are gratified to be able to announce that we have now made a change, and we believe that hereafter those who favor us with their patronage will have no cause for complaint.

By his card below it will be seen that Mr. T. T. RUTTER assumes control of and, from this date, will have an interest in our Job Department. He is a native of this place, is a young man of energy, is industrious and temperate, and he promises to enforce the motto we have ever made the rule of our business life: promptness in filling all orders sent us. Let him have a fair trial.

P. JOHN.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

IMPAIRED VITALITY.—When you feel as if the vital powers were giving away, strength gone, spirits depressed, memory failling, appetite lost, exhaustion stealing over every sense and parralyzing every energy, then is the time to resort to the powerfullaity of nature, Dr. Walker's Vegetable Vinegar Bitters. The properties they embody soon work a glorious renovation in the debilitated system and the clouded mind.

THE ATMOSPHERE OF LOVE.—Is a pure sweet breath. This desideratum is one of the results of using Sozodont which not only invigorates and preserves the teeth, but renders the mouth as fragrant as a rose.

CRISTADORO'S HAIR DYE.—If all his hairs were lives, Othello said, "my great-revenge hath stomach for them all." But hair that's grey or sandy, white or red, the ladies have no stomach for at all. Use Christadoro's Dye and the evil is remedied. Manufactory, 68 Maiden Lane, New York.

THE PUREST AND SWEETEST COD LIVER OIL —in the world is Hazard & Caswell's made on the seashore, from fresh, selected livers, by Caswell's, Hazard & Co., New York. It is absolutely pure and sweet. Patients who have once taken it prefer it to all others. Physicians have decided it superior to any of the other oils in the market.

JOUVIN'S INODOROUS KID GLOVE CLEANER restores soiled gloves equal to new. For sale by Druggists and Fancy Goods Dealers. Price 25 cents per bottle. F. C. Wells & Co., New York.

BE GUIDED BY WHAT YOU KNOW.—There is an old proverb which says, "Experience is the saft guide." To this guide the sick and ailing naturally turn when casting about for the means of relief. They enquire what a medicine has done for others, before they adopt it themselves. Of all the remedies and preventives in use, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters meets the test most triumphantly, and hence its immense popularity and vast sales. The sufferer from indigestion is sure to find some one among his friends who has been cured of dyspepsia by the famous vegetable stomachic. The victim of fever and ague, liver complaint, constipation, nervous prostration, or general debility, has only to make inquiry in the neighborhood where he resides in order to discover what this standard restorative has effected in cases similar to his own. In the published testimony to its merits he will find a volume of proofs of its sanitary properties, which it is impossible for his cynical nature to resist. He tries it, and the effect it produces on his system sends another to the host of witnesses in its favor. Thus, its reputation, founded on facts, not assertions, continually grows and spreads. Charlatans and the [illegible] some of them more local tricksters, and others who fail in somewhat wider range, attempt to [illegible] into the hands of down the throats of invalids, their hazard concoctions as such. But for the tonic which [illegible] many years has stood and [illegible] the [illegible] the United States, Spanish America, Canada [illegible] this [illegible] proceed to a very limited extent. In this [illegible] age, the people [illegible] ined when [illegible] deserving of their confidence, [illegible] gods."

To the Farmers and Planters of Maryland and the South generally.

HORNER'S MARYLAND SUPER-PHOSPHATE.

WE COURT THE CHEMIST'S INQUIRY.

After 23 years' experience in the Fertilizing business, and after establishing a wide reputation for the purity and excellence of this Bone Dust, the subscriber has been induced to prepare a Phosphate suitable to the requirements and everyway worthy the attention of the Southern Farmer.

The "Maryland" is a rejuvinator and permanent improver of the soil. It stimulates equal to Peruvian Guano, and sustains equal to Bone, being composed almost entirely of these ingredients, with a very liberal percentage of Potash in the residuum. There is no adulterator or inferior article used—every particle of the Phosphate being of essential benefit to the land. Neither pains nor expense have been spared in its preparation, and we claim for it the greatest benefit to the farmer from the smallest outlay. For cotton, wheat, corn, and as a general stimulant and aliment for worn and impoverished land, there can be nothing superior. It is waranted to run as high in Ammonia and higher in Bone Phosphate than any other fertilizer in the market. Price $60 per ton, in new bags. No charge for delivery. A DIALOGUE.

"Hallow neighbor, where have you been and what is all that stuff you have there?"

"Why these are all goods of a variety of kinds. I only had a little money and wanted it as far as possible, and heard of KEATON'S a cheap store. I went there and laid out my cash and am satisfied that I saved at least TEN CENTS ON EVERY DOLLAR. I found another advantage—he has old experienced merchants for Clerks, and they know how to treat a customer—he should be. In fact it is all fair dealing—one need not be afraid of paying too high for any article, or of having a bad article put upon him.

"Why how is all this? It has only been about two weeks since I heard that 'this man Keaton' had kept a little bit of grocery shop.' I did not suppose it worth while to go there to look for a stock of anything."

"Yes, I heard the report, but I thought then as I do now that it was put in circulation by an envious infamous puppy for the purpose of injuring Keaton's trade or credit, or both. I'll warrant if you go there and look through and price his goods you will come to the same conclusion I have, that he keeps as near everything as any store in this town. He informs me that they were all purchased in the cities of Philadelphia and New York, and I see that they are being sold low, and that they are going off like "hot cakes."

KEATON'S is the place to go to save time and money in making purchases. Go and see for yourselves. 19—3t.

DESCRIPTIVE CATALOGUE.
OF VALUABLE
NORTH CAROLINA LANDS,
FOR SALE BY
GEORGE D. POOL.
Real Estate Agent,
ELIZABETH CITY, N. C.

In presenting my list of lands and other properties for sale, I would say that no section of the United States offers such inducements for capitalists and emigrants, as this section of North Carolina. In longevity and healthfulness, it will compare favorably with any where; and in easy and cheap transportation of products to market, in pleasantness of climate, in the sociability of the people, in great fertility, and durability of soil, no section can equal it.

A railroad will soon be built to Weldon, putting this place in direct communication by Rail, with the whole United States. This together with our great fishing, farming and manufacturing interests, and certain early completion of already projected works of improvement for putting in nearer, cheaper and easier communication with the Ocean, will render this one of the most important commercial, and manufacturing points on the Southern country.

A Steam Saw and Grist Mill in the town of Nixonton 8 miles from E. City. This Mill has a fine wharf and store attached on deep navicable water, the engine is 40 horse power and all in good order. It is one of the finest locations to be found any where for custom work, and for getting good saw logs easily and cheaply. Price $4,000 cash.

Adjoining the mill property is 40 acres of fine land on the River, with three houses, all for $1200. Near the same is a good two story dwelling and 13 acres of land for $2,000, and a good one story dwelling, with one acre of land for $300.

Also two fine farms in Pasquotank county, 10 miles from E. City, within half mile of church, school house and post office. One tract contains about 300 acres, with fair buildings and 90 odd're cleared, and the other contains 300 acres, with good two story dwelling, large barn, and other outhouses, both are offered at $20 per acre, one third cash, balance in one and two years.

Also one other tract in Pasquotank county, containing 116 acres, within one mile of the town with fine buildings, mostly cleared and in cultivation. Price $25 per acre, one half cash, balance in 12 months.

A valuable site for a hotel at Nag's Head, 50 miles from Elizabeth City, and 50 miles from Edenton. This is situated immediately on the Ocean, and is a famous Summer resort for invalids, and those seeking health, comfort, and amusements during the summer months. It is in direct communication by steamboats and railroad with all parts of North Carolina, Virginia, and the North; and is equal in natural advantages to Newport, or Cape May. Visitors flock to this famous summer resort by hundreds and thousands, and a large amount of money can be made at a hotel. A charter has been obtained from the Legislature of N. C., for a joint stock company to build the hotel. There is now a old hotel on the spot, which could be cheaply repaired and bought for $3,000. This hotel, though imperfectly kept, cleared the proprietor last season, over $3,000. For a man or a company, having some capital, this is one of the finest chances to make money at hotel keeping to be found anywhere. The early attention of the public is invited to this property.

A fine steam saw and grist mill at Hertford, the county seat of Perquimans County, N. C., 18 miles from Elizabeth City. This mill has a fifty horse power engine, now in good running, two pairs of best French burr stones, and two upright saws. The house is brick basement, and the building is large and in good order. There is one and a half acres of land belonging to this property, and a good two story dwelling, and other out-houses. The section of country adjacent abounds in the finest yellow pine, cypress, ash, poplar, and other valuable timber. This property originally cost $15,000, and is now offered at forced sale for the low price of $3,500, $7,00, cash, and the balance in six equal instalments, months apart each with interest.

A fine farm and fishery in same county. The farm contains 600 acres of the finest land, lies immediately on Albemarle Sound where the water is 12 miles wide, and 15 to 20 feet deep, has out buildings, and fine neighborhood. The fishery is on the farm and goes with it. It has a new seine 2,500 yards long, and all the necessary boats, buildings, &c., (which cost over $15,000 two years ago.) The fishery alone, of a good season, will make from 5 to $10,000 profit to the owner. This property is offered at forced sale for the low price of $20,000, $7,000 cash, balance on six years.

A store at South Mills, in Camden county, 20 miles from E. City, and 20 miles from Norfolk, lying on the canal where steamers pass daily. A fine chance for merchandize. Store is large with dwelling above containing six rooms, is in first rate order, has office, kitchen, dairy, and other necessary outhouses. Goods to the amt. of $50,000 per annum can be sold here, and at large profits. A splended stand for a country retail store. Price $2,500—one third cash, balance in one and two years.

A valuable tract of land in Camden county, at South Mills, on the Dismal Swamp Canal, lying on the canal for two miles, containing 900 acres of land—two-thirds cleared, and in a fine state of cultivation, with good buildings, &c.; balance in valuable timber. Price $12,000, one third cash, balance in one and two years, interest from January, 1871. This is a valuable farm for corn, wheat, and vegetables, and being midway between Elizabeth City and Norfolk, and located where steamers pass by the door daily, is a desirable and cheap property.

A fine farm of 600 acres within six miles of E. City, one mile from navigable water, and the best cotton farm in the State. It is also well adapted to raising corn and wheat. This farm has a splended two-story dwelling upon it, large barn, 40 by 60 feet, a large number of outhouses, by splendid trees and shrubbery, is in a strong Union neighboorhood, and altogether the most desirable place in the county. A little over one-half of this land is cleared, and the balance is covered with the finest yellow pine, poplar, ash and other timber. Price $30 per acre—one third cash, balance in one and two years with interest. Title reserved.

Sixteen houses and lots in Elizabeth City, with good dwellings, outhouses, &c. Prices and terms reasonable.

A valuable farm in Perquimans county, N. C. near navigable water. Has a fine dwelling-house with ten rooms, in splended order, with splendid barns and stables—all in first rate order. The land are very productive in corn, oats, wheat, cotton and grass. It is one of the finest farms in the State and is now in good cultivation, contains 765 acres of land, about three-fourths cleared and under cultivation. Price $10,000, one-third cash January 1, next balance in two equal annual instalments with interest at the rate of six per cent.

A farm of 370 acres 5 miles from town by water, and 12 miles by land, is offered for sale for $10,000 in easy payments. This tract of land lies immediately on the River which is 4 miles wide at this point. On the farm its whole length on one side, and a branch of the River one mile wide, binds it on one end. The land is well adapted to raising corn, wheat, cotton, oats, peas, &c., lies high and dry, and is susceptible of the highest improvement. Fronting and looking over, as it does, two large sheets of navigable water, where steamers and sailing vessels are constantly passing, carrying freight and passengers to all parts of the country, its location and surroundings, are of the most fascinating and desirable character. There is a fishery on it ready for working a seine 2,500 yards long, and which commands a portion of both streams of water, and can be made immensely profitable. The price charged is low, and the purchase a very desirable one. The buildings consist of a good two-story dwelling and out-houses.

A tract of valuable land, containing 356 acres, with fine two story dwelling containing 9 rooms and cook-room. Servant's house with 3 rooms, large barns and stables, all necessary and convenient out-houses, 3 tenant-houses near town, and immediately on the River. About 100 acres of this land is in fine wood and timber, balance in a fine state of cultivation. It has 8,000 grape vines one year old, 3,500 peach, apple and dwarf pear trees, five acres in strawberries which yielded an immence profit this year, ten acres in Lawton and other rare varieties of black-berries, 15 to 20,000 young peach trees with other choice fruits too numerous to mention. This farm has a public road on one side, and the River on the other, where strangers come daily to the landings to receive the fruits and vegetables, and carry them down to Norfolk, Baltimore, Phila., or New York. The land is finely adapted to raising corn, wheat, cotton, oats, and all other field crops.

The owner of this farm offers to sell in tracts, to suit purchasers, say in 50 to 100 acre tracts, and at prices ranging from 35 to $80 per acre, according to location, buildings, &c.

There is also on this farm a fine fishery, where a seine 1,000 yards long, and 20 feet deep is hauled every Spring. Herring, Shad, Rockfish, Sturgeon and other valuable fish, are caught by thousands at every draw of the seine. And the profits are frequently large. This fishery of itself is worth nearly as much as is charged for the whole property. The terms will be liberal. This is probably the finest opportunity offered any where for a profitable investment.

☞ Fishery has an office, and two houses for hands besides fish house. Then some 500 to 1,000 loads of best fish manure on hand, besides over 5,000 loads of compost made ready for use. This goes with the farm.

A desirable house and lot in the town of Elizabeth City on the corner of two principal streets, the principal one, and situated in the best business locality in the town. The lot contains about two acres of land, and the buildings consist of a fair dwelling three stories high, containing eight rooms, all in good order, another two story building with four rooms and pantries, dairy, smokehouses, stables, &c. The dwelling has a good cellar under it. There is room on the front lot to erect two good stores, and they would occupy the best stand in the town for merchandize.

TO THE PUBLIC.

THE LAND AND LUMBER COMPANY having a large amount of Real Estate of their own to dispose of, and their business having increased to such an extent, they think it prudent to decline acting further as Commission Agents for the sale of lands belonging to others. They will however be glad at all times to furnish every facility to parties coming to Elizabeth City with a desire to look at the country and make purchases if they find it to their interest to do so.

The following list of property, owned by the Company, is offered for sale on the most reasonable terms. Their object now is to acquire a larger monied capital for the purpose of further developing their unimproved lands and carrying out their original design of increasing the Commerce and General Trade of Elizabeth City.

As there are others in the Commission Business, parties are referred to their advertisement for further information.

ELIZABETH CITY.

The following desirable list of Properties in Elizabeth City are offered at very reduced prices for cash or on time payments at rates which make any of them excellent investments for capitalists. We feel confident that this City is destined to become a large place and property will advance rapidly. Emigration is now tending Southernward and the feeling is in universal favor toward Elizabeth City.

A large two-story dwelling known as the Parsonage, with fine double Piazza, front and back, large out kitchen, stables, carriage house, with 17 acres of ground well enclosed. This ground is all within the corporation of the City, and is well situated to lay out in building lots and make out of it ten fold the price asked for it.

A two-story dwelling containing ten rooms, 10,000 gallon cistern and all necessary out-houses, with large lot. Situated on Main Street. A Vacant Lot no better located and not so large as this was sold recently for $1600 cash.

A large brick store house and wharf situate on Water street; in E. City, comprising three lots with 400 feet of water front, permanently wharfed for the accommodation of large vessels. There is erected on these lots a large two-story brick building, 50 by 80 feet, well fitted up for a wholesale or retail trade at present occupied by the "Yankee Store."

A large wood store on west side of Water street 36 by 60, two stories high, being one of the best stands on Water street for merchandizing.

A House and Lot on Riverside Avenue. House 20ft front by 50 ft deep. Containing eight rooms with Pantry and Cellar, all well finished, modern style, and having all necessary out buildings. The lot contains a front of 400 ft, and would be a good location for a large shop or foundry as one whole side fronts on the water.

Also a large number of Wharf Lots, Mill Lots and Vacant Lots at very low prices, some of which are enumerated below. The Wharf Lots are 200ft deep and will be sold to any size desired along the River. Among them are some most eligible situations for Store Houses, Mills and Manufactories of any kind as there is a fine harbor immediately in front of them, having 30ft of water, sufficient for vessels of any capacity. Along Pennsylvania Avenue are offered some of the finest and choicest lots, for dwellings in town at prices varying according to location. This will be the finest street in town, is 80 feet wide, size of Lot 100ft front by 200ft deep. There are now a number of first class residences being erected on this street. Immediately in the vicinity of these Lots the Company have erected a large Planing Mill, Sash, Blind and Door Factory at a cost of near $20,000 and also their Saw Mill at a cost of near $15,000. That now is the proper time to invest in those Lots there can be no doubt, as they will double in value in a very short time. Lots not near so good as these, are now selling in other parts of the City at more than double the price asked for these.

VACANT LOTS.

Lots Nos. 150, 155, 158, 161, 163, 165, 167, 170. 172, 175, 178, 180, 182. 185, 187. 190, 193, 195, 198 and 200, situate on Pennsylvania avenue, in the new extension of Elizabeth City, all choice lots, intended for the better class of residences. Size of lots 100 feet front by 200 feet deep. Price varying, according to location, from $100 to $1000.

TOWN LOTS.

Lots Nos. 250, 253, 255, 256, 258, 261, 263, 266, 267, 268, 271, 283, 285. 287, 288, 289, 291, 296, 299 and 300, situated on various Streets in the new extension of Elizabeth City, size of lots 50 feet front by 100 feet deep, at prices varying from $25 to $100.

MILL LOTS.

Four Mill-Lots situated on Knobb's Creek, so that logs can be taken from the creek to the mill. These lots have 200 feet each of water front, and over 600 feet deep to Mill street, and are choice sites. The purchaser will also have the right of storage for logs in the boom.

PASQUOTANK COUNTY.

The Land and Lumber Company also offer for sale, one thousand acres of their timbered land along the Main Road leading from Elizabeth City to Hertford and Edenton, said land heavily wooded, soil very rich and about four miles from Elizabeth City. This land will be sold in lots to suit purchasers and at the low price of ten dollars per acre.

They also offer a tract of three thousand acres in Lots to suit purchasers, near the Pasquotank River, ten miles from Elizabeth City and three miles from South Mills. This land is heavily set with wood and also has upon it a vast amount of saw timber, and has a most excellent soil. This is a fine location for a small Colony. There is now a Public Road running directly through it. This tract is offered at the low price of eight dollars per acre if sold to one party, or at only a fraction more if divided into small lots.

The Company will also sell their farm of 150 acres two miles from Elizabeth City. 125 acres cleared and under good cultivation, well fenced, having upon it two dwelling houses, one new and the necessary out buildings wanted on a farm, and will be sold on very reasonable terms.

Also another farm one mile from Elizabeth City containing one hundred acres, between thirty and forty acres cleared and under cultivation, the balance is now being cut off and is nearly ready to be cleared up and cultiuated. This property is very desirable being so near the City though for reasons first given will be sold at a very low price.

We have a finely timbered tract of land situated on the Albemarle Sound twenty miles from Elizabeth City, containing 124 acres. Good timber land bordering on the water is valuable both for wood as well as saw timber as water transportation affords a good margin for wood, say one dollar per cord. This will also make good farm land—will be sold for one thousand dollars.

Also one other tract of land containing 154 acres situated immediately on the Pasquotank River ten miles from Elizabeth City, valuable for wood, and is excellent farming lands, would be sold for six dollars per acre.

GATES COUNTY.

The Land & Lumber Company have a tract of 350 acres of timbered land one half mile from Chowan River and three miles from Winton the county seat of Hertford county. This body of land is well timbered and will be sold at the low price of three dollars per acre.

☞ The most direct and cheapest route is to go to Baltimore by N. C. R. R., then Bay Line steamer to Norfolk, Va., then steamer to Elizabeth City, N. C.

Scrofula, Syphili, Consumption, Glandular disease, Ulcers in the throat, Mouth, Tumors, Nodes in the Glands and other parts of the system, Sore Eyes, Strumorous discharges from the Ears, and the worst forms of Skin diseases, Eruptions, Fever Sores, Scald Head, Ring Worm, Salt Theum, Erysipelas, Acne, Black Spots, Worms in the Flesh, Tumors, Cancers in the Womb, and all weakening and painful discharges. Night Sweats, Loss of Sperm and all wastes of the life principle, are within the curative range of this wonder of Modern Chemistry, and a few days' use will prove to any person using it for either of these forms of disease its potent power to cure them.

If the patient, daily becoming reduced by the wastes and decomposition that is continually progressing, succeeds in arresting these wastes, and repairs the same with new material made from healthy blood—and this the SARSAPARILLIAN will and does secure—a cure is certain; for when once this remedy commences its work of purification, and succeeds in diminishing the loss of wastes, its repairs will be rapid, and every day the patient will feel himself growing better and stronger, the food digesting better, appetite improving, and flesh and weight increasing.

Not only does the SARSAPARILLIAN RESOLVENT excel all known remedial agents in the cure of Chronic, Scrofulous, Constitutional, and Skin diseases; but it is the only positive cure for KIDNEY & BLADDER COMPLAINTS, Urinary, and Womb diseases, Gravel, diabetes, Dropsy, Stoppage of Water, Incontinence of Urine, Bright's Disease, Albuminuria, and in all cases where there are brick dust deposits, or the water is thick, cloudy, mixed with substances like the white of an egg, or threads like silk, or there is a morbid, dark, bilious appearance, and white bone-dust, deposits, and when there is a pricking, burning sensation when passing water, and pain in the Small of the Back and along the Loins.

☞ ☞ ☞ Bear Testimony to their Wonderful Curative Effects. They are not a vile Pesey Drink, made of Poor Rum, Whisky, Proof Spirits and Refuse Liquors doctored, spiced and sweetened to please the taste, called "Tonics," "Appetizers," "Restorers," &c., that lead the tippler on to drunkenness and ruin, but are a free medicine, made from the native roots and herbs of California, free from all Alcoholic Stimulants. They are the GREAT BLOOD PURIFIER and a LIFE GIVING PRINCIPLE, a perfect Renovator and Invigorator of the System, carrying off all poisonous matter and restoring the blood to a healthy condition. No person can take these Bitters according to directions, and remain long unwell, provided their bones are not destroyed by mineral poison or other means, and the vital organs wasted beyond the point of repair.

They are a Gentle Purgative as well as a Tonic, possessing also, the peculiar merit of acting as a powerful agent in relieving Congestion or Inflammation of the Liver, and all the Visceral Organs.

FOR FEMALE COMPLAINTS, whether in young or old, married or single, at the dawn or womanhood or at the turn of life, these Tonic Bitters have no equal.

For Inflammatory and Chronic Rheumatism and Gout, Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Bilious, Remittent and Intermittent Fevers, Diseases of the Blood, Liver, Kidneys and Bladder, these Bitters have been most successful. Such Diseases are caused by Vitiated Blood, which is generally produced by derangement of the Digestive Organs.

DYSPEPSIA OR INDIGESTION, Headache, Pain in the Shoulders, Coughs, Tightness of the Chest, Dizziness, Sour Eructations of the Stomach, Bad Taste in the Mouth, Bilious Attacks, Palpitation of the Heart, Inflammation of the Lungs, Pain in the regions of the Kidneys, and a hundred other painful symptoms are the offsprings of Dyspepsia.

They invigorate the Stomach and stimulate the torpid Liver and Bowels, which render them of unequaled efficacy in cleansing the blood of all impurities, and imparting new life and vigor to the whole system.

FOR SKIN DISEASES, Eruptions, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Blotches, Spots, Pimples, Pustules, Boils, Carbuncles, Ring-worms, Scald Head, Sore Eyes, Erysipelas, Itch, Scurfs, Discolorations of the Skin, Humors and Diseases of the Skin, of whatever name or nature, are literally dug up and carried out of the System in a short time by the use of these Bitters. One bottle in such cases will convince the most incredulous of their curative effects.

Cleanse the Vitiated Blood whenever you find its impurities bursting through the skin in Pimples, Eruptions, or Sores; cleanse it when you find it obstructed and sluggish in the veins; cleanse it when it is foul, and your feelings will tell you when. Keep the blood pure, and the health of the system will follow.

Pin, Tape, and other Worms, lurking in the system of so many thousands, are effectually destroyed and removed. Says a distinguished physiologist, there is scarcely an individual upon the face of the earth whose body is exempt from the presence of worms. It is not upon the healthy elements of the body that worms exist, but upon the diseased humors and slimy deposits that breed these living monsters of disease. No system of Medicine, no vermifuges, no anthelmintics, will free the system from worms like these Bitters.
